CHANNEL LAKE ROAD PAVING IS APPROVED

Supervisors Approve Surplus Fund After Much Debate
$45,000 TO BE SPENT

The board of supervisors Saturday voted to use what money was saved from the county bond issue work on the Lake Villa-Antioch road, at the completion of the work, to pave Channel Lake road from Antioch west as far as the money will reach. It is estimated that there is already a surplus of approximately $45,000. This amount, it is expected, will complete a road down to the bridge at Channel Lake.

The work of securing this appropriation was entered into by some of the merchants of Antioch, including Frank R. King, William Hillebrand, Herb Vos, Chase Webb and Charley Sibley and after several conferences, the supervisors were convinced of the necessity of the road and late Saturday afternoon passed the appropriation.

The Lake Villa road was started under the county bond issue plans with an appropriation of $165,000. Due to the state's stepping in on the program and laying the road from the end of the concrete near Lake Villa through Antioch and north, there is a surplus in the bond issue fund for that road.

Antioch feels that it is entitled to the money which otherwise would have been spent by the county in a strip of that road through the village and to the intersection of the east and west Channel Lake road.

A request through the village president and the board of local improvements and Atty E. E. Runyard that the supervisors pay the surplus to be expended on the improvement of the east and west road as far as the money would go. The village at least would be assured of a good road to its western limits and probably as far as the Channel Lake bridge.

It is planned to get out the preliminary work at the earliest opportunity. The county, however, will not divert the money until the Lake Villa-Antioch section is completed.

The village will pay for a 12-foot strip on Channel Lake road, the county to pay for an 18-foot strip, making the road 30 feet in width.

The board of supervisors also voted to use the next available refund from the state to the improvement of the north end of Green Bay road.

This strip consists of four and a half miles from Wadsworth road to the Wisconsin state line. As the country plans to concrete that part of Green Bay road between Grand avenue and Wadsworth road, the four and one-half mile strip will be the only unimproved section, and thus the next available money should be used there, the supervisors felt. This will also be good news to Kenosha county because that county already has plans under way to pave the continuation of Green Bay road from the state line north.

J. N. PACINI AWARDED $600 IN BENDER CO. CASE

John Pacini was awarded a judgment of $600 by a jury in the court of Judge Claire C. Edwards Monday when the plaintiff, Bender and Co., fixture dealers of Chicago, failed to appear in court.

The fixture company charged that Pacini did not pay for fixtures which they are said to have taken away. He maintained that payment was made. He was awarded damages.

MERCURY REGISTERS 18 BELOW ON MONDAY MORNING

UNCLAIMED MAIL AT THE ANTIOCH POSTOFFICE

There is unclaimed mail at the Antioch postoffice for the following: Leonard Bros, George Panklin, G. A. Haender.

Former Sheriff to Superintend State Prisons

Elmer J. Green, former sheriff of Lake County, has been appointed superintendent of state prisons. The appointment will be sent to the state senate for confirmation in January.

E. J. GREEN

The position carries a $5,000 a year salary.

His long experience in the handling of prisoners as sheriff and deputy sheriff of Lake county particularly fits him for the position. During all the time he served as sheriff he never had a jail delivery or lost a prisoner. He was regarded in state police circles as an unusually efficient officer and helped in the capture of many notorious crooks.

He also was entrusted with the care of numerous federal prisoners during the war, the department of justice officials being pleased with the secrecy and care he exercised in handling their prisoners.

During the trial here of Gov. Small, who was acquitted, Sheriff Green came well acquainted with the state executive. During Small's campaign for the governorship Sheriff Green supported him locally as did also his Lake county organization.

His appointment of Green as warden at Joliet would be the fifth announcement of similar rewards for men connected with his trial.

Revivalist to Open Services December 31

Definite information is at hand that Dr. Joseph E. Ludgate, renowned evangelist, has definitely promised to lead the big revival campaign to be conducted by the Antioch Methodist church, beginning December 31, and running three weeks.

The church people regard themselves and the whole community as very fortunate in securing a man of such quality and strength. He has led hundreds of revival campaigns, in cities of all sizes and communities of all different kinds, with thousands upon thousands of conversions, and knows how to adapt his method to every type of community.

Dr. Ludgate holds the rank of captain in the United States army, awarded for highly efficient service with the troops as chaplain. Few members of the International Association of Evangelists stand higher in the association than Dr. Ludgate.

Reports come in of delighted pastors and happy church boards all over the country who unite in the highest praises of this man of God and his very unusual work.

The date is the very best of the year, and many other things unite to make the situation highly propitious for a great and successful meeting.

All the people of the community at large, young and country, are most cordially invited by the Methodists to attend every evening and afternoon and enjoy with them the sweet gospel music, the rich feast of holy eloquence, and the happy fellowship of the Sons of God, and to assist them in bringing all the joy of the Christian experience to all who have not found it yet.

The hours are to be seven o'clock every evening and two o'clock every afternoon.

HERE YOU ARE GIRLS

Oh, girls, here's something just for you. Isn't it just wonderful? Norma Talmadge (of course every girl knows Norma), the beautiful movie actress, has on display at Hillebrand & Shultz's store the gown she wore while filming one of her features. Norma will be at the Crystal on Christmas, but—on the screen.

Woman's Club Takes Charge of Smyrna Relief

Notwithstanding the severe cold weather of the day, the regular meeting of the Woman's Club, Monday afternoon, was well attended. At the business meeting the report of the committee having in charge the community Christmas tree was given, and a few final details arranged.

The president of the village board, Mr. Frank King, came before the club to present the cause of the Smyrna Special Relief committee and to confer with the Woman's Club as to the most practical and expeditious manner of conducting a canvas of the entire community. The purpose of the canvas being to raise money for the relief of these destitute, starving people, rendered homeless refugees by the wanton burning of the city of Smyrna by the Turkish army.

It was thought that the Woman's Club, being a cosmopolitan organization, and entirely undenominational, was the one organization in Antioch best suited to conduct a general canvas for this purpose. The work is Red Cross work in its emergency form and it is but natural and fitting that to the Woman's clubs all over the land should be given the high privilege of carrying on this work of relief.

The Antioch Woman's Club rose to the occasion and accepted the responsibility. Pledge cards for conducting the canvas were turned over to the president and plans for work quickly outlined.

At this writing every school district in the township has been visited and a sufficient number of pledge cards left with each teacher to insure one being placed in every home in the district. The teacher will collect the money and the cards and report to the club president. In the village the territory has been so divided as to make possible a personal solicitation in every home within a very few days. Already the High School leads the list with a paid up subscription of one hundred and fifty dollars.

The urgent need of this stricken people, the utter destitution of more than a million women and children, are such as to admit of no argument. When a neighbor's house is burning we do not stop to argue as to the cause of the fire. We rescue and relieve him and his family first and settle that afterward. That the fire, settle that afterward. That the fire, settle that afterward. That the fire, settle that afterward.

The funds raised are subject to a very strict audit and a report of same must be made to Congress. Every dollar is transmitted to Charles G. Dawes, chairman of the board of directors, Central Trust Company of Illinois. America is the only country in the world today which is able to give to others as well as care for her own. "Therefore, whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."

Give and give cheerfully to this work of relief and mercy to which our government has called us at this Christmas season of loving and giving. This year instead of giving to "him who hath," let us give to the homeless millions of Smyrna, who through no fault of their own are dying for lack of the food and clothing of which we have such an abundance. Pledge cards will be given you some time during the week, payment to be made not later than Jan. 1.

Incidentally the Woman's Club had a Mark Twain program, Miss Clevenger gave an interesting reading of the life, character and writings of Samuel Clemens, or Mark Twain, and Miss Tibbitts, a humorous reading from Tom Sawyer in which we learned of his first love affair.

A Christmas Gift

For those who are in doubt as to what to give as a Christmas gift, we would suggest a "Year's subscription to The Antioch News." It's a gift that would be remembered throughout the year and would be greatly appreciated by the recipient.

From heav'n's all-gracious King;"
The world in solemn stillness lay
To hear the angels sing.

20 Years Ago in Antioch

Thursday, Dec. 25, 1902.

Fred Thorn was a Chicago visitor Saturday.

Will Blanchard of Grayslake visited in Antioch over Sunday.

John Turner of Chicago is visiting his parents through the holidays.

Miss Effie Hardin of LaFayette, Ind., is spending the holidays with her parents south of town.

A. G. Watson, who has been employed at Racine, Wis., for the past three months, is spending the holiday vacation with his family.

The Rebekah Social Club will meet at the home of Henry and Sarah Ingalls, Friday evening, Dec. 26. The last meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Engman which everyone present enjoyed immensely.

On Friday evening, Dec. 19, the Antioch Volunteer Fire Department held a dance at the Woodman hall, and despite the inclement weather a good sized crowd turned out and a good time was had. From the proceeds of the dance and private subscriptions about $75.00 was realized, with which the firemen will equip themselves with necessary paraphernalia to fight fires.

Miss Laura Williams is home from school at Chicago to spend the holiday vacation.

HUNT COYOTE

A coyote hunt in Wilmet has attracted all the hunters in that vicinity the past week. So far no hunter has been fortunate enough to kill the animal. The coyote originally belonged to Frank Martin at Silver Lake and during the past summer escaped from its cage and has roamed at will about the country. The farmers have lost lots of chickens because of its prowling and an organized search has been started. Though it has been sighted several times, no one has succeeded in shooting it.

MANY BEAUTIFUL DISPLAY WINDOWS IN ANTIOCH

Christmas displays and gift suggestions are more beautiful and plentiful this season in Antioch than ever before. The window displays as a whole are very appropriate and some are excellent. The S. M. Wallace store is very neat, while the Williams Bros. store, with its new display windows, offer an added attraction over the old windows. Mrs. Sabins and Otto Klass and Keulman's are all very attractive as is the fruit display of Hillebrand and Shultz's.

Hillebrand and Shultz's have the biggest assortment of toys in their spacious quarters on the second floor, and compare favorably with the "loopy" department stores in variety. Late Christmas shoppers should experience little difficulty in making choice selections in Antioch.

WILL SING XMAS CAROLS FRIDAY EVE.

Huge Tree to Be Erected at Corner of Lake and Main Streets

SANTA CLAUS HERE

Friday, Dec. 22, at 7:30 p. m., in response to an invitation by the Woman's Club, Santa Claus will make his appearance at the community Christmas tree.

This tree, under the direction of the club, will be erected by the boys of the manual training class of the high school, in the heart of the "loop district," at the intersection of Lake and Main streets. A committee from the club appointed for that purpose will attend to the trimming. Another committee will meet to carry out certain orders received from Santa Claus. The Public Service Co. kindly offers the current to light the tree during the holiday week, and our genial electrician has promised to do the necessary wiring.

The music committee of the club will give a short musical program in which everyone in the community, man, woman or child who can sing, is earnestly requested to take part. The songs and choruses selected are the old familiar tunes which have been sung by Christian people all down through the ages at this hallowed season. Lest, perhaps, the words might not be so familiar the committee have asked that these be printed in this issue of our paper and they will be found in another column.

Remember, the invitation is to everyone who can sing—and surely if we as a nation remember our many blessings we shall gladly join that night to sing the songs the angels sang. "Glory to God in the highest." Christmas carols are being rehearsed and will be sung by all the school children and young people of the community, after which the children will form in line and follow directions given by Santa Claus himself and sure to give a "sweet" time.

Remember the invitation to meet at the community Christmas tree is not only for the children of the village, but for all the children of the community and surrounding country. Santa Claus hopes there will be at least three hundred of you and that you will bring both father and mother to help Antioch celebrate its first community tree.

As the Christmas season approaches in what more beautiful way could a community celebrate the Christmas tree, that shall stand in blessed time than with an out-of-doors quiet beauty for a week in commemoration of the Birthday of one who said, "Who so ever will may come?" That is why we love the Christmas tree that is in "God's out of doors." Let Friday evening be given over to the happiness, fun and frolic as well as to the sentiment of Christmas and may the glowing lighted tree as it stands throughout the coming week draw us all nearer to the great heart of humanity and help us to remember and help the less fortunate, the friendless, the homeless, the sick and the needy.

Thus only will the community Christmas tree accomplish its mission.

Let all the children come, and let all the people sing and make a joyful noise Friday evening at 7:30 around the community Christmas tree.

"Ring Out the Old, Ring in the New!"

Lauriger Horatius, quem dixisti verum
Fugit Euro citius tempus edax rerum.

Tempora mutantur et nos mutamur in illa

By JOHN DICKINSON SHERMAN

HE Latin has a terse and forceful way of putting things. Now, the first quotation above has been rendered in free-and-easy style:

Old Man Horace, sprigged with bay
Truly thou dost say, sir,
Time speeds faster on its way
Than the swiftest racer.

Clever, but the Latin says it more forcibly: Crowned-with-laurel Horace, what you say is true: Flies than the southeast wind faster time the devourer of things.

And the second quotation above neatly supplements the first by saying: Times change and we are changed in them.

All of which suggests most forcibly that time has destroyed the old-fashioned method of observing several of our American national holidays; that the times have changed and we in them.

Now, there's the Fourth of July, for example. The old-fashioned Fourth is so entirely gone that we don't quite know what to do with the day. In the old days we used to twist the Lion's tail when we didn't know what else to do, but since we fought side by side with the British in the Great War, that seems out of place as do fireworks and the casualty list of small boys.

And it's just about the same with New Year's Day. About all that's left us is to listen to the whistles blowing at midnight and to make good resolutions. And what changes the day has seen since first Americans began its celebration!

America's celebration of New Year's Day owes nothing to Puritan New England. In the North New York, being Dutch, was the center of New Year's gaiety. The South, being English, but not Puritan, also celebrated enthusiastically. The custom of making calls probably is as old as civilized man; it is likely that it originated independently in almost every clime. Old-time European chieftains used to set "New Year's" apart as a day on which they would condescend to receive substantial tributes from their underlings. Queen Elizabeth received New Year's calls every year, and there was always much rivalry between her ambitious courtiers as to the quantity and value of the gifts they should bestow upon the virgin sovereign. It was on a New Year's Day that Sir Walter Raleigh gladdened the queen's heart with a memorable pair of silk stockings—the first ever made and worn in England.

In Holland the custom of making New Year's calls had been general long before the settlement of New Amsterdam, and the natives of the Netherlands who came to live in the New World brought the practice with them. And, of course, they had plenty to eat and drink—for who ever heard of Dutchmen who did not take good care of their stomachs?

Up to the beginning of the Nineteenth century the typical New Year's observance was a neighborhood custom. Then it became an observance decreed by fashion and was observed in every city of any size in the country.

The younger women of such households and great was their rivalry, one with another, in respect of richly loaded refreshment tables and elegance of toilet. The "beaux" and "dandies," and "gallants" attired themselves in their best and started out early in the morning, calling first at the houses where matrons received, and afterward upon the younger ladies. The drinks that were offered at every house of any prominence were ardent and diverse.

It was not until about the middle of the century or thereabouts that the abuse which finally led to the custom's decline began. For years the dandies rivaled, one another in the length of their calling lists, and the calls soon came to be nothing more than hasty gorgings of cake and gulping of wine.

Then the ladies—the matrons as well as the young women—began to vie with one another in the number of their callers. This led to the most extraordinary practices. Callers were recruited, drummed up. Cards announcing that Miss This-or-That would be "at home" on January 1 were sent out almost indiscriminately. The Sunday newspapers began to print lists of those who would receive, and the lists were sure to be besieged by numbers of men whom the ladies had never met or heard of and desired never to meet again.

Men would go calling in couples and parties, and even in droves of 30 or more, remaining as short a time at each stopping place as possible, and announcing everywhere how many they had already made, and how many they expected to make before they finished. At every place they drank. The result was a most appalling assortment of "jags" long before sundown, and a crowding of the police stations at night.

This New Year's observance finally became so abused that it was called a "national evil," and was attacked by reformers everywhere and ministers thundered against it from the pulpit. Finally fashion set its face against it and it died a gradual death.

Its place was taken after a while by eating and drinking in the restaurants, and by the street carivals.

If Croesus himself had come back to earth and had visited New York—or any big city in the country—in 1905, he couldn't have got a seat in any restaurant of note after ten o'clock the night of December 31, for all his fabulous wealth. In fact, he probably couldn't have got inside the door, for every table was engaged—at big prices and long in advance. Diners had to get out at nine o'clock and guards at the doors saw that none except those with credentials got in. During the last hour of the Old Year the people feasted, and at the first stroke of the New Year everybody in every restaurant arose, wine-glass in hand, and drank a health to the New Year. It was comparatively quiet indoors, but the people in the streets made noise enough to scare young 1905. Every sort of noise-making implement known to man except cannon and dynamite bombs was in active use.

"Get your horns and ticklers!" was the prayer roared by thousands of fakers all evening. Trucks and wagons were halted at the curb, loaded with tin horns and thin sticks with a bunch of huckle-leaves at the tip. If you were a real devilish New Year's humorist you proceeded like this: First, tickle some stranger under the chin with the feathers; then, as he turned to protest, you blew the horn in his face.

A universal custom of New Year's of those days was the carrier's New Year's address. This was often in rhyme if the carrier was of his greeting," in keeping with the spirit of community Christmas celebrated a week before. Twelve bands, with 280 musicians, were musked in the public square. To an audience of thousands they played hymns and patriotic airs. Announcement by the police that the midnight closing law would be enforced rigidly cut hotel and restaurant festivities down markedly. In Cincinnati the police had the promise of every hotel, cafe and saloon keeper to close promptly at midnight. Similar conditions prevailed in Detroit and Indianapolis.

Then came the Great War. And so then prohibition.

So at present the celebration of New Year's Eve and New Year's Day is beset with twist and between.

What will it be ten years from now? And what a century hence?

PROPOSES PARLEY ON REPARATIONS

United States Government Suggests to France Formation of Commission.

GERMANY FAVORS PROPOSAL

International Body of Bankers Would Mediate Claims if Plan Accepted—France, However, Raises Question of Guarantee.

Washington, Dec. 10.—The United States government has suggested informally to Premier Poincare of France, the establishment of an international commission to mediate on the question of reparations commission to determine to the satisfaction of all nations concerned the amount of reparations Germany will be able to pay.

This commission will be composed of the greatest financiers in the world, it was learned authoritatively, but the method of the makeup of the commission with countries from which its members would be drawn, and other details are not settled. The German government also has been sounded out on this proposition, and the understanding is that Ambassador Wiedfeldt has communicated to the United States the willingness of Germany to abide by the decision of such a commission, provided that the United States is satisfied the commission will be formed in such a way as to assure just and fair treatment for Germany.

This tentative acceptance by Germany is made in the face of the fact that the United States is strongly committed to the principle that Germany must pay up to the extent of her ability. France has as yet given no assurance whatever that the mediation of such a commission would be satisfactory to her, but has countered with formal queries to this effect: Supposing such a commission should fix Germany's liability, what assurance would we have, anyone that we have now, that Germany would pay the amount determined by the commission as being just and fair?

"Camouflage" on City Merchandise

"Camouflage" is one of the expressive words handed down to us by the war, but it exactly fits a similar practice in our peace time pursuits. We refer here to the so-called "bargain" of the city merchant, advertised for the benefit of the little town shopper, behind which the city merchant screens his true purposes. It is not his real aim to sell the man or the woman from the country a bill of goods at less cost than that same bill can be bought at the former's home town merchant; his aim is to use the specially-priced articles as a bait, and then sell him other goods—once he has the visitor in the store—at such prices as will yield sufficient profit not only to cover the latter but to bring a good return also on the under-priced article.

It cannot be denied that in many cases this "leader" is cheaper than the same article can be bought for in the home-town store. And the city merchant, in arguing with the country shopper, makes much of this point. But do not let that mislead you. If you will give the matter a little thought, you will find that in rare instances is it a staple article that is thus under-priced, and even if it were the situation would not be greatly changed. In the end, you pay well for it just the same. The Antioch merchant will be the first to admit that he cannot meet the price at which such "bargains" are offered and still make the reasonable profit to which he is entitled by his investment. But bring your receipted bills to him after your return from the city shopping-expedition, and he will show you how he could have saved you money by striking an average of more reasonable prices all the way down your list.

Helping Other Merchants
"Bargains" are often called the miracle-makers of business, for they bring trade where there was no trade before. This was a true miracle indeed, in a dull season, but like many of our modern miracles, they are Big City hoaxes. The victim is the man from the little town who buys in the city and helps the city merchant pay for his heavy overhead.

Your home-town merchants do not resort to methods of this kind. Business with them is based on the sound economic principle of supply and demand. You buy goods only when you need them, so that when you do buy, what you buy fills a want for you. That is true merchandising service. In that way, and in no other way do you get the full value for your money. "Bargains" thus become a stimulant in business that is sure to be succeeded by a reaction, and the healthy business life of a town like Antioch wants none of it.

In the city this method of carrying on business is possible for a considerable time because there are so many gullible buyers who are taken in by the alleged saving thus effected. When this inflated manner of merchandising gets into a nation's system to any considerable extent we have a disturbed market, followed by trade congestion, with the result that we suddenly wake up to find ourselves in the midst of a financial panic.

Paying for City Style
In another article we will emphasize the heavy overhead that the city merchant has to meet. If you remember that you have to pay your share of this total of his fixed charges every time you visit his establishment, all time you visit his establishment, all will be well with you, for you will compare his range of prices with those of your home-town merchant and you will buy only those few things that are under-priced—if you buy at all. Desirable business locations double and triple in value because of the competition for their possession. High value means high taxes. The downtown congestion means greater fire hazard, with the resultant increase in insurance. You help to pay for the style and pomp displayed, and for the employment of many superfluous clerks and attendants—which in no sense add to the value of your goods.

THE "BARGAIN BAIT"

The Bargain Bait has lured many to spend money foolishly. The Big Town store advertises "rare bargains." The Small Town housewife, eager to save, spends time and money to make a shopping trip by train, trolley or automobile. She buys the "bargain"—and then buys other things at higher prices, and the Bargain Bait has served its purpose. There is no bargain in such buying. You pay more—but you get no more. And mostly you get less. If you ever buy bargains this way, check up the cost of the merchants of Antioch and see how much you could have saved by spending your money at home

A debate entitled, Resolved that cooperation is needed for the attainment of a social end, was given by the citizenship class last week. Floeste Schreck, Florence Bloss and Ruth Pacey defended the affirmative, and the negative was argued by Ruth Gittings, Evelyn Behnke and Leon Mizen. The result was a victory for the affirmative.

REGULAR SERVICES

Holy Communion 8:00 a.m.
(Except 3d Sunday)
Church School 9:45 a.m.
Morning Prayer 11:00 a.m.
Holy Eucharist 11:00 a.m.
(Third Sunday of Month)

The Christmas services will be held at St. Ignatius' Church next Sunday, Dec. 24th. There will be one service at 10:00 in the morning which will consist of the Holy Communion with music, and a short sermon fitting the occasion. The Eucharist will be celebrated by the Rev. A. Haire Forster, professor of New Testament at the Western Theological Seminary. We are very fortunate in being able to procure a priest for this occasion.

There will be no session of the Church school next Sunday, but the Church school children are expected to be present at this service and the regular attendance of the Church school will be taken at that time.

Every confirmed member of the Episcopal Church is expected to receive Holy Communion at this time. However, everyone who is in any way connected or interested in the Church should be present for this occasion. Those who are not communicants are most welcome, and should deem it a great privilege to assist at the Holy Eucharist at Christmastime, because the Eucharist has always been the great service of the Christian Church.

We are having only one service so that every member of the congregation may be present at the same time, and we want to make this Christmas the finest that St. Ignatius' church has ever seen. We want to fill the entire seating capacity of the Church. The service will be over in time for everyone to get home for the preparation of dinners and all other necessary work.

On Friday evening at 6:30 there will be a choir practice for the Christmas music. Please come and make this music a success.

On Saturday evening at 8:00, in the Woodman hall, there will be held the annual church school Christmas party. All the children of the Church school are expected to be present.

Holy Baptism will be administered if there is any occasion for it, and the Blessed Sacrament will be carried to the sick.

There will be distributed next Sunday a Church Calendar for every family in the Parish.

The greatest Christmas gift that one can receive is the Blessed Lord as He comes to us in the Sacrament of the altar. Come and receive that gift or assist at that service. Come and join in the Christmas spirit and the Christmas message: "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace, good will to men."

Methodist Episcopal Church News

The big revival begins two weeks from this coming Sunday. It runs three weeks. Let us all be ready; everything else possible out of the way. All social engagements put aside for those three weeks. All but strictly necessary work postponed. The plan is that for these three weeks we are to actually give our energies to saving souls and deepening and intensifying our own religious life.

Does anyone presume to say his religious life does not need any deepening? Then he makes it sun clear that his need is the greatest of all.

Don't forget about the prayer lists. The last of them should be in not later than this coming Sunday. At least five names written on a list—you keep a copy and hand a copy to the pastor. Pray every day for each one on your list.

Remember, there is no agent that can reveal the sinner's tragic need of salvation to him, but the Holy Spirit. No power, force, energy anywhere that can work the changes in the sinner's heart to save him but the Holy Spirit. The part the Christians have to do with this is to give themselves so unceasingly to prayer, with such intensity that the Holy Spirit will come in unmeasured power to melt the hard heart and open the eyes that are spiritually blind, and cure the sinfulness of their hearts.

The Christmas tree and program at the church this coming Saturday evening at 7:00 o'clock. An offering will be taken for the needy and helpless and starving children in every part of the world. Do not forget to bring the largest money you can get hold of for this offering. Think what it would mean to you if you were without home, friends, school, church, even without enough clothing to cover your body from the cold, and hungry every minute of every day and night—think what it would mean to you if somebody, somewhere, would give a dollar or five dollars and provide you with some good food and just a few clothes and get you into a comfortable home for a while any way, and maybe tide you over till you could earn a little yourself. Be a good fellow this Christmas to these poor kiddies all over the world and lay aside something that is big enough to count for something and bring it to put into the offering Saturday night.

Let us ask God to turn the community upside down and inside out by the irresistible might of the Holy Spirit. If we pray often enough and long enough and intensely enough, God will answer our prayer and do the very thing we are asking. Will you be one to engage in this kind of praying?

"The Dictator" at Majestic With Wally Reid

The internal disturbances of certain romantic and ebullient South American republics, which have for years furnished the American press and humorous writers with material for exciting dispatches or clever, humorous discussions, were placed in the hall of fame by the plays of the late Richard Harding Davis, who was virtually their literary spokesman.

"The Dictator," which comes to the Majestic theater next Saturday and Sunday as a Paramount offering with Wallace Reid in the star role, is one of this type by this author. It is the play which Willie Collier made famous on the stage and one in which Mr. Davis paints an exciting picture of volcanic life in the Latin-American continent.

Walter Woods, an experienced scenarist, translated the play to screen terms, which meant modifying it somewhat, bring certain incidents down to date and generally applying the modern brush to the canvas, which is, however, still fresh and alluring.

Lila Lee, leading woman, has the role of Juanita, dainty daughter of Dr. Rivas, a self-styled "liberator," played by Theodore Kosloff. Mr. Reid, as Brooke Travers, falls in love with her and then the trouble begins. From Los Angeles the scene shifts to a tiny Latin-American republic where a bitter war between rebels and regular is waged. James Cruze, a veteran Paramount director, handled the megaphone.

Norma Talmadge
at Crystal Theatre
Christmas Night

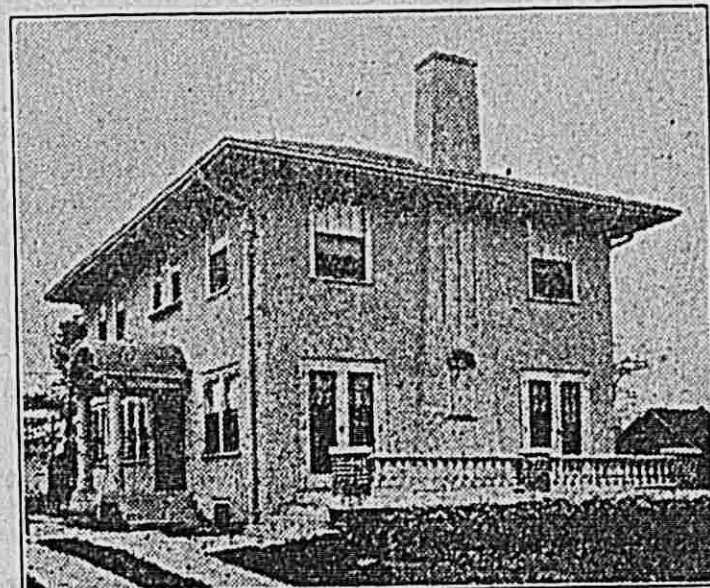

There's an extraordinary treat coming for the patrons of the Crystal theater. It's Norma Talmadge's "Smilin' Through!"

The production has long been hailed as the biggest achievement of Norma to date, and lovers of the silent drama will not be disappointed when it shows here next week. Norma has a dual role, in which her wonderful emotional powers rise to new and greater heights. You see her in the big dramatic story of a beautiful young girl who falls in love with the son of the man who had killed the woman her guardian was to marry. The story reaches a powerful denouement when John Carteret, who had been deprived of his bride at the altar by his jealous rival, interferes with the romance of the young couple.

In addition to playing a dual role in the production, Norma has two leading men, Wyndham Standing and Harrison Ford. Other prominent artists of the silent drama appear in the cast, including Alec B. Frances, Glenn Hunter, Grace Griswold, Miriam Battista and Eugene Lockhart. "Smilin' Through" was directed by Sidney Franklin from the successful stage play by Allen Langdon Martin, in which Jane Cowl had the leading role. Remember, this is the finest motion picture Norma Talmadge has yet made. You simply can't afford to miss it!

Lake Villa Ph

Obituary

Mary Ann Turner was born at Oswego, N. Y., September 9, 1841, and departed this life in Antioch, Illinois, December 14, 1922, aged 81 years, 3 months and 5 days.

In her early childhood she came with her parents from the old home in New York to Illinois, which was then a new country. For several years they lived in Chicago and then moved to a farm two miles east of Antioch. Here she grew to womanhood amid the scenes of the farm life.

In March, 1878, she was united in marriage with Henry Rogers and they made their home on a farm west of Cedar lake, at Lake Villa. There they spent the years in the joys and hardships of farm life; there she attended the little Centennial Methodist church, south of Lake Villa, receiving the spiritual help that filled her life with so much of that fidelity to the great trust committed to her, the care of four stepsons, who now rise up to call her blessed because through all the years she was to them so real and so genuine a mother that it is doubtful if any mother could have been more faithful, more kind or more earnest for their good.

In 1902 the husband passed away, and Mrs. Rogers went back to her old parental home, east of Antioch, and took care of her aged mother until her death. She continued to make the old place her home with a brother until his death twelve years ago, since which time she has lived with the stepsons and other relatives.

She had seemed fairly well till the last day. She had spent Thanksgiving with her brother's wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Turner of Antioch, and remained for a short visit afterward. On the fourteenth she was taken quite suddenly ill in the forenoon and passed away in the afternoon.

The four stepsons survive. They are, Leroy Rogers of Rothcombs, Mich.; Roland V. Rogers, living near Richmond; Leslie H. Rogers of Chaney Lake, near Antioch, and A. Delbert Rogers of Los Angeles, Cal. She is survived also by one brother, Henry Turner, living in Cottonwood, S. D., and one sister, Mrs. Nellie Colegrove of Antioch.

Mrs. Rogers loved to sing the old hymns, often read the Bible, and held to the habit of communion with God in prayer, and manifested in her life much of the spirit and quality that comes from faith in Christ the Lord.

The funeral service was held in the Methodist church at Lake Villa at 2 p. m. Monday, after a short service at Mrs. Turner's home, and interment was made in the Lake Villa cemetery.

A corporation is in process of formation for the creation of purchase or lease of an eighteen hole golf course for Lake Geneva. Atty. H. A. Burdick is one of the most enthusiastic backers of the plan and it is said that $20,000 has already been pledged.

For the first time since its organization as the Town of Cuba in 1850, Cuba township will have no election next spring.

The law passed a few years ago making town clerk, highway commissioner and assessor two year offices brings about this condition, but this is the first year its effect is shown.

Racine, Wis.—The Journal-News today prints the following:

"Affairs of the Mitchell Motors company of this city, are in such shape that it is imperative that the creditors act promptly and in unison," according to a circular letter received by the creditors of the big corporation from a creditors committee, "so as to properly protect the interests of the creditors in the event of reorganization and refinancing, or to take steps to protect the interests of the creditors in the event that the stockholders are unsuccessful in providing means for properly refinancing the company."

Refusing the application of one company to operate a bus line between Waukegan and Kenosha and granting the application of another, the Illinois commerce commission has spoken in the motor bus war which has been going on between the companies in question for several months. Notification reached Kenosha this morning that the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee Electric Railway com. any had been granted a permit to operate a bus line between Waukegan, Zion and Winthrop Harbor to the state line, with an idea that it would be extended to Kenosha.

A similar application made by the Lake Shore Transportation company, of Kenosha, now operating a bus line between Racine and Kenosha, was denied.

The North Shore bus line is now in operation. The jurisdiction of the Illinois commerce commission extends only to the state line and for that reason a similar permit has been secured from the Wisconsin commission to operate the Wisconsin end of the line. The company is also operating a bus line between Kenosha and Lake Geneva. Its plans include the adding of several more of the large green busses to the two lines early in the spring.

It is not anticipated that the Lake Shore company will halt immediately its attempt to secure a permit. Officials of the company are expected to renew their application claiming that discrimination has been shown.

New York—John T. Rafferty, collector of internal revenue for Brooklyn, told today of a woman whose total income tax for the year was 4 cents, and who paid 1 cent every three months. He added that the postage used in notifying her of the amounts due was far in excess of the tax.

The supervisors approved the contract with H. P. Beers, architect, the latter to draw up the plans and specifications for the new $300,000 addition to the Lake County courthouse. The board also voted to advertise for bidders when the plans are approved and to submit the same to the entire board at its next meeting.

The board also voted to permit the finance committee to go ahead with the preparation and sale of the bonds.

CHICAGO'S PER CAPITA
TAX RATE IS LOWEST

CENSUS REPORTS SHOW INCREASE IN LESS THAN IN 11 OTHER LARGE CITIES

Much has been said and written about increased taxation in Chicago, especially as propaganda against the present city administration, but this propaganda lost its force when the fact was shown by United States census report, that the increase in Chicago was less than in any other large city east of the Mississippi.

Of course, taxes have gone up. Everybody knows it and nobody denies it. So have household expenses, business costs, living costs and everything else. Without increased taxation, no governmental agency, national, state, county or city, could have continued to function.

The city's revenue was reduced seven million dollars per year by the national prohibition law, and that loss of revenue had to be made up by an increase in taxation. No one will be foolhardy enough to argue that the city administration ought to be charged with the 18th amendment and the profound economic changes which it brought about.

It has been said that the best measure of the cost of government to the taxpayer is the per capita tax levied. This is borne out by figures obtained from the federal government census reports. Figures on the twelve leading cities of the United States show Chicago in the most advantageous position so far as the tax rate is concerned. Chicago's increase in 1921 over 1918 was only 25.05% as against 89.50% for New Orleans and 81.85% for Seattle. These figures are for all government bodies, including state, county, schools, etc.

During the period of this slight increase, more public improvements were carried out than in any other period of equal length in the history of the city. Chicago was made the healthiest large city in the world and unequalled recreational facilities, such as bathing beaches and playgrounds, were established.

It is a well-established fact that the people of Chicago get more for every dollar of tax money than do the citizens of any other large city in the world.

LAKE VILLA TAKES TWO

FROM ROSECRANS

Last Tuesday evening Lake Villa went over to Rosecrans with two teams. The game between the second teams was fast and furious, the outcome of the game being in doubt until the blowing of the final whistle. The game was a rough one from start to finish, being marked with many "personals" on both sides. Slocum was the star for Rosecrans, looping two or three from the center of the floor. Reinbach, who played but half the game, was easily the star for Lake Villa, dropping in four goals and three free throws.

The game between the first teams was never in doubt. The Lake Villa team, which seemed to have gotten off to a poor start at the first of the season, seemed to have found its stride and passed rings around the Rosecrans quintet. Gillett was easily the star for Rosecrans, scoring half of the points that they made and breaking up many of Lake Villa's long shots. Corson and Johnson, Lake Villa forwards, were going strong, the former contributing six field goals and three throws and the latter four field goals. We mustn't forget to mention the work of Keller and Levinski at guard and Weber at center, for it was largely thru their efforts at defense and team work that the forwards could do so well on the scoring end.

Home Comforts
Reflected HereTies of Family and Domicile Keep Residents
Interested

"Home is where the heart is," is a definition largely tinged with sentiment, but it is none the less true. Many a resident of Lake Villa bears a strong affection for this community because for him it holds all that is dear to him. He is resolved that he will let nothing undone that may make Lake Villa a better town, so that his home and those who are in it may be surrounded by all the loving care that he can bestow on them.

On the other hand, the man who is a wanderer is without abiding interest in any town. Nothing holds him to this or that place, and it is of little consequence to him whether he resides here or at the next place.

The ties of home are stronger than any material ties. "Home" is merely a name, like "country," but any husband and father will pour out his last drop of blood in fighting for either. Never was a greater truth propounded than when the poet wrote:

"Be it ever so humble,
There's no place like home."

You cannot translate it into terms of money, for the meanest hut may breathe more the true spirit of home than the richest palace.

The Comforts of Home.

When you talk to a hard-headed business man about such intangible you have to "show him." Mere words do not go very far when it comes to a matter of separating him from his money, yet no man who maintains a business man for an extended credit in case of necessity. Surprisingly large sums are advanced on a small amount of tangible security to a man building a home because such a man is a good "moral hazard."

The men who own their homes are the backbone of such a community as Lake Villa. They must own them, because the business of renting habitations to others, which has been largely developed in big cities, has happily not spread to communities the size of ours. The home-owning citizen is the bulwark of the nation.

The nations of Europe in which Bolshevism is unable to make any headway are those in which the people own their own homes, while the ones in which its ravages are greatest are those where throughout the years it has been impossible for them to acquire even so little property as this.

The scourge, therefore, has had little menace for the United States, because so many people can own their own homes, or if they do not own them, they know they can any time they want to, and nothing is to be gained through violence on others in the possession-class.

This is of great significance to Lake Villa.

LAKE VILLA COPS ONE FROM LAKE VILLA

On Friday evening the basketball fans of Lake Villa met in Barnstable hall once again. The local high school team played the opening bout with a Lake Villa second team. The little fellows, though outwheeled, played rings around the big boys. A. Norien, one of the second team forwards, was heard to exclaim several times that the school boys were too rough for him. We think Axel it must have been your feet or hands that were in your way. "Better luck next time Axel." As the outcome of the game was never in doubt, the coach had a chance to try out all his men and every one was surprised at the showing the boys made. Come on fans and travel to Libertyville with them next Friday night. The game starts at 7:30.

The score—L. V. H. S., 20, Lake Villa 2nd 9.

The First Game

With a crash that could be heard all over Lake Villa, Round Lake and Lake Villa started out, after the curtain raiser. Again Lake Villa showed that she is improving fast. Owing to the smallness of the floor there were many fouls on both sides. C. Hamlin, who was the official referee, sure did his duty and gave the fans a chance to view a basketball game as it should be played. Round Lake became angry toward the last of the game, because he was calling the fouls so close. Maybe they don't realize the rules have been changed this year. After Round Lake made a few changes in the last half, her team work improved and they played a brand of basketball that was much better than in the first half. In the first half Coach Hussey's men pilled up such a good lead that he was enabled to try out all his material.

Johnson was Lake Villa's star, dropping the ball thru the loop at all angles of the floor. The rest of the boys played good team work and sure gave the people a chance to see the improvement that Coach Hussey has made in his team since the beginning of the season.

Thursday evening, at 8 p. m., Lake Villa meets the strong Libertyville team, which put the skids under them earlier in the season. Come out and watch the boys get revenge. Remember the date, Thursday evening, Dec. 21.

LAKE VILLA

Once more the wheels of time have rolled around and we are in the midst of the Christmas season. It is a time of rejoicing and of good cheer. We are all planning in our various ways how best to celebrate the birthday of our King. Let us unite together in a celebration at the church next Sunday morning and evening. The subject for the morning will be, "The Christmas Message." The evening service will consist of a pageant of the Nativity, including the old familiar carols. The wise men of old brought their gifts of gold and frankincense and myrrh—let us bring our gifts of self, service and substance. The conclusion of the program will be the appearance of the old familiar Christmas tree and additional carols. You are cordially invited.

Don't forget the big dance at Barnstable Hall Dec. 23.

THIS IS OUR HOME

Lake Villa is our home. We have built here, expecting here to spend our lifetime. Our hopes and ambitions for ourselves and families are centered here. Naturally we have the local pride that causes us to hope that our home town will grow and thrive. We put forth our efforts towards this civic end. And yet—some of us—spend our money out of Lake Villa and spend it elsewhere, taking this power for good away from the proper function of helping the town. When you buy your needs out-of-town you take that much away from yourself.
